DETAILED ACTION

Election/Restrictions

Applicant's election without traverse of Group I, claims 7-9 and 29-34, in the reply filed on February 02, 2007 is acknowledged.

Claims 21-28 and 35 are withdrawn from further consideration pursuant to 37 CFR 1.142(b) as being drawn to a nonelected invention, there being no allowable generic or linking claim. Election was made without traverse in the reply filed on February 02, 2007.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

The following is a quotation of the second paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall conclude with one or more claims particularly pointing out and distinctly claiming the subject matter which the applicant regards as his invention.

Claim 31 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention. Line 2, "cock-screw" is a mis-spelling.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

This application currently names joint inventors. In considering patentability of the claims under 35 U.S.C. 103(a), the examiner presumes that the subject matter of the various claims was commonly owned at the time any inventions covered therein were made absent any evidence to the contrary. Applicant is advised of the obligation under 37 CFR 1.56 to point out the inventor and invention dates of each claim that was not commonly owned at the time a later invention was made in order for the examiner to consider the applicability of 35 U.S.C. 103(c) and potential 35 U.S.C. 102(e), (f) or (g) prior art under 35 U.S.C. 103(a).

Claims 7-9 and 29-34 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Applicant's Admitted Prior Art (AAPA) in view of US20020040894A1 to Borstel and in view of JP402108444A and in view of JP02002283090A. AAPA discloses a laser ablation system (Specification, Description of the Related Art, and Figure 1). Borstel show a barrier window with an aperture smaller than the beam. JP402108444A shows (Figure 1) a laser window with aperture (8a). JP02002283090A shows a laser machine comprising a barrier window with an aperture larger than the beam. Use of an apertured window at the top of a laser beam nozzle would have been obvious at the time applicant's invention was made to person having ordinary skill in the art because the window aperture is suitable for efficient beam transport while the window is suitable as a barrier. Borstel describe [0012] flushing gas directed towards or away from the workpiece. JP02002283090A shows an aperture which is not parallel to the beam.

Claims 29-34 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Applicant's Admitted Prior Art (AAPA) in view of US20020040894A1 to Borstel and in view of JP402108444A and in view of JP02002283090A as applied to claim 7 above, and further in view of JP02000351089A. JP02000351089A discloses a protective window assembly having at least one hole and desirably a plurality of holes arranged in cork-screw fashion. The use of a plurality of holes would have been obvious at the time applicant's invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art because the holes provide cooling and desireable pressure and flow.

Response to Arguments

Applicant's arguments with respect to claims have been considered but are moot in view of the new ground(s) of rejection.

Conclusion

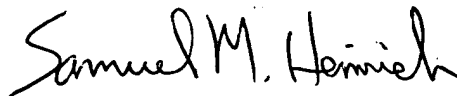

The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure. The cited art pertains to lasers, windows, and holes, apertures, or pinholes and pertains to gas and vacuum.
